

PUTTING SOUL IN YOUR MANAGEMENT STYLE

Training for Learning Co.
Realise your potential

Outline: The value of working with understanding & appreciation, sharing and developing an energy in our workplace that offers a great working environment. It empowers the people and create an atmosphere of harmony.

One day workshops

During the workshop, participants will explore the ways positivity can impact the operation of the business. You will identify the style that fits your management technique and how you can make a difference to your environment, your communication approach toward the team with whom you work with regularly.

- Explore your style of communication
- Identify the approaches that work
- Nailing this emotional intelligence topic
- Injecting a positive spirit into your workplace
- Appreciating the diversity of the team
- Working at making a difference

Residential

The two day event provides time to network with like minded individuals, listening and sharing approaches that can inspire and motivate your team and learn how others inject that much needed positivity into the workplace and maintain it. The results of the involvement will culminate in a action map for implementation for the coming year.

- Investing in yourself to further your growth
- Exploring some emotional intelligent case studies
- Reflection on the power of positivity
- Using the diversity of communication styles
- How to inject spirit into your workplace
- Setting the benchmark for improvement
- Finding the keys to working with diversity
- Setting some goals for 2015
- Action mapping for results
